Dear George:

Jane and I enjoyed meeting with you last week to discuss our new Soviet affairs training program. I am pleased that you will be able to join us the week of January 12, 1987 to lead one of our overview seminars. Our enthusiasm about the program and our desire to get underway make it natural for us to want you earlier, but we will be patient and work within your schedule. There is something to be said for maintaining peace and harmony at home! If your 1986 plans should change in any way, please let us know.

As the program unfolds over the next several months, we will be able to give you some feedback on what we learn from the early sessions. We can also discuss plans for your seminar, honorarium details, and any other questions which may arise.

When you are in Washington, please give me a call [redacted] or [redacted]. We will not be able to match your excellent Chinese restaurant, but we might find a reasonable substitute if you can break free for lunch.

Again, it was good to see you and I look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
